Moreau had advanced across this forest to the Inn, where, on the 1st of December, he was attacked and forced to retrace his steps, and take up his position on the further side, at the village of Hohenlinden. Here, where one of the great roads debouched from the woods, he placed Ney and Grouchy.

"The Austrians, in four massive columns, plunged into this gloomy wilderness, designing to meet in the open plain of Hohenlinden - the central column marching along the high road, while those on either side, made their way through, amid the trees as they best could.

"It was a stormy December morning when these seventy thousand men were swallowed from sight in the dark defiles of Hohenlinden. The day before it had rained heavily, and the roads were almost impassable; but now a furious snow storm darkened the heavens, and covered the ground with one white unbroken surface. The by-paths were blotted out, and the sighing pines overhead dropped with their heavy burdens above the ranks, or shook them down on the heads of the soldiers, as the artillery wheels smote against their trunks. FOREIGN PERIODICALS. REPUBLICATION OF

The London Quarterly Review, The Edinburgh Review, The Foreign Quarterly Review, The Westminister Review, and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

ME above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals-BLACK wood's Magazine being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition. The wide-spread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As interary organs, they stand far in advance of any works of a similar stamp now published, while the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor, and orhearance not often found in works of a party character. They embrace the views of the three great parties in England-Whig, Tory, and Radical. "Blackwood" and the "London Quarterly" are Tory; the " Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the "West-minster," Radical. The "Foreign Quarterly" is purely interary, being devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works. The prices of the Krenty's are less than one third of those of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all that advantage to the American over the English teader.

TERMS .- PAYMENT TO BE MADE IN ADVANCE. For any one of the four Reviews, For any two of the Reviews, 5.00 per annum. 7,00 per annum. For any three of the Reviews, 8,00 per annum. For all four of the Reviews, 3,00 per annum. For Blackwood's Magazine, For Blackwood and the four Reviews, 10,03 per annum. CLUBBING.

Pour copies of any or all or the above works will be sent to one address on payment of the regular subscription for three-the fourth copy being gratis. Remittances and communications must be made in all cases without expense to the publishers. The former may always be done through a Postmaster, by handing him the amount to be remitted, taking his receipt and forwarding the receipt by mail, postpaid; or the money may be enclosed in a letter, post paid, directed to the pub-N. B. The Postage on all these Periodicals is reduced by the late

Post Office law, to about one third the former rates, making a very important saving in the expense to mail subscribers. *. In all the principal cities and towns throughout the United States, to which there is a direct Railroad or water communication from the city of New York, these periodicals will be delivered Free of Postage.
